

Basic Terminologies:

Email:

- o Email is short for electronic mail and was first used in 1971 on ARPANET computer network.
- o Raymond Tomlinson is inventor of the electronic mail, he worked as a software developer.
- o Just like regular mail, you need to have address of recipient before you can send an email.
- o The SMTP (Simple Mail Transfer Protocol) is the protocol for sending emails on the Internet.
- o The IMAP (Internet Access Message Protocol) protocol for receiving emails on the Internet.

MTA (Message Transfer Agent):

- o MTA is a device that transfers email from one computer to another computer.
- o Cisco Email Security Appliance will be acting as MTA (Message Transfer Agent).
- o The entity responsible for transferring emails from a sender to the recipient is MTA.

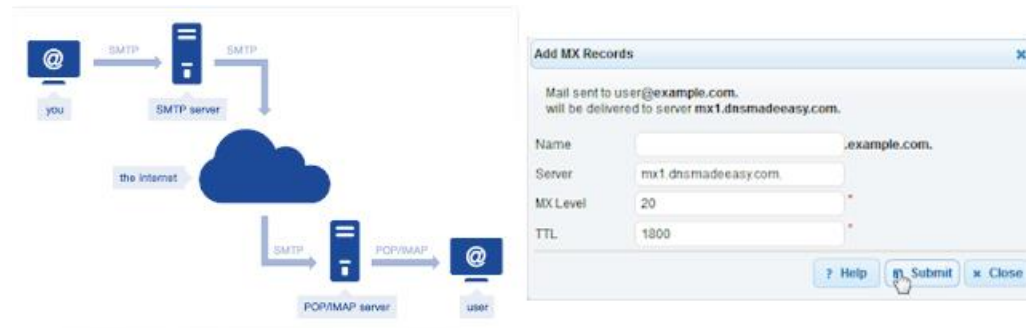

MUA (Mail User Agent):

- o Mail User Agent is an application in the computer used to send and receive emails.
- o Mail User Agent (MUA) an email client or email reader installed on the user's system.
- o In daily life we just refer to an MUA (Mail User Agent) as an email program or app.
- o Allows a user to access the emails stored on an email server or Mail User Agent (MUA).
- o Microsoft outlook and Mozilla Thunderbird will be acting as MUA(Mail User Agent).

MX(Mail Exchanger) Record:

- o Specifies Servers FQDN that should receive email address, Basically, it will be SMTP Server.

Incoming Mail :

- o The E-Mail from the Internet to the company or organization Internal Email Servers.

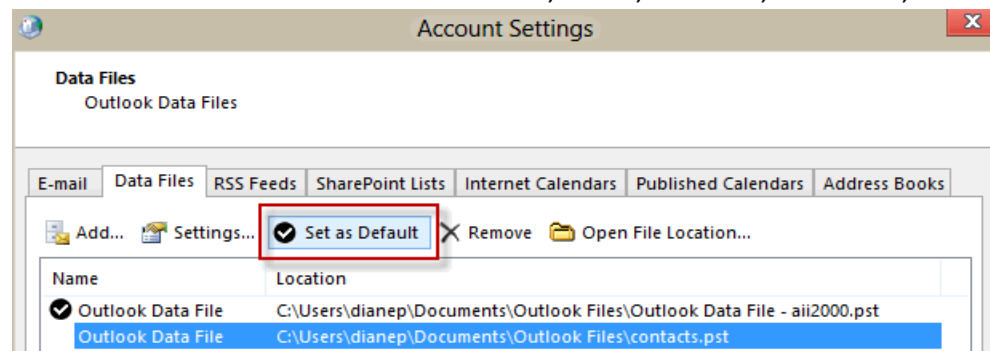

Outgoing Mail:

- o The E-Mail from Company or organization Internal Email Servers to the Internet.

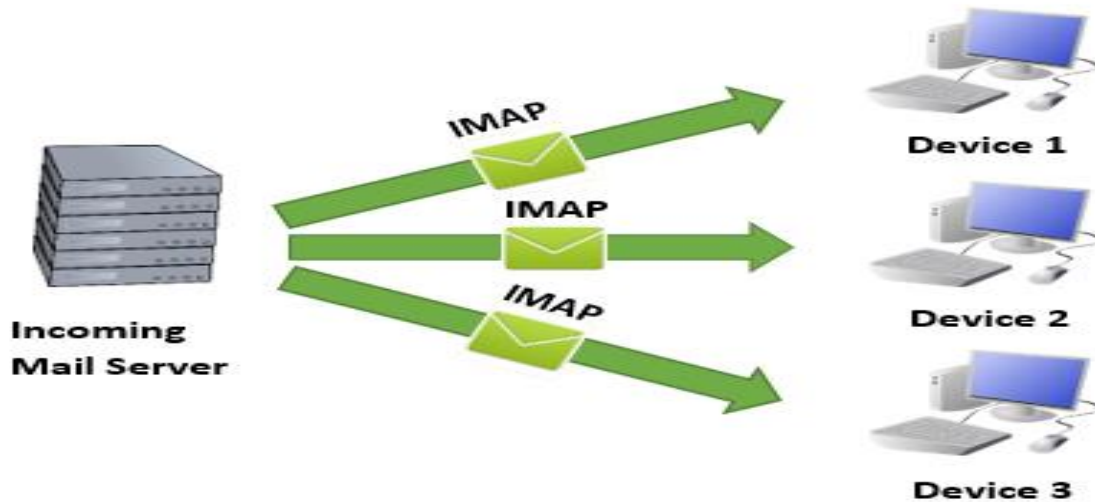

PST:

- o Personal Folders File (PST) is how Microsoft Outlook stores data locally in the Computer.
- o PST is file format that can hold emails, notes, contacts, calendars, and any Outlook data.

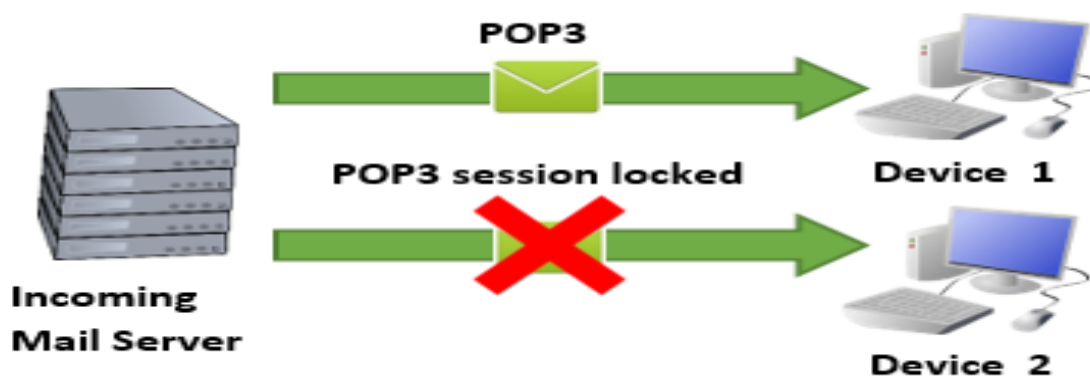

IMAP:

- o Internet Message Access Protocol is the standard email protocol for retrieving messages.
- o Internet Message Access Protocol will synchronize all emails and folders across all devices.
- o Mail application will not physically download & delete any emails from server with IMAP.
- o The Internet Message Access Protocol Instead it will synchronize with what is on the server.
- o For example, if you move an email from one folder to another on iPhone, this replicated.

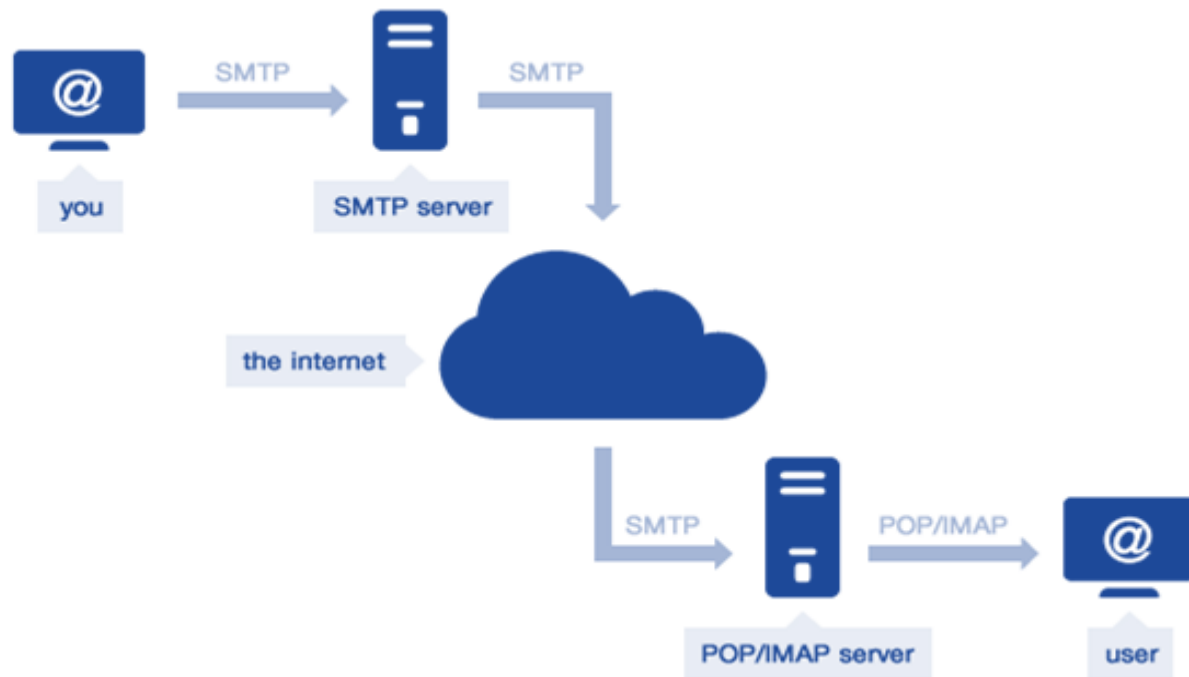

POP:

- o POP stands for Post Office Protocol and is now old and outdated Email Protocols.
- o It is used to download any emails stored on the mail server directly to the device itself.
- o Mail application will then tell server to remove emails once they have been downloaded.
- o Because of this, POP should never be used to connect your mailbox to multiple devices.

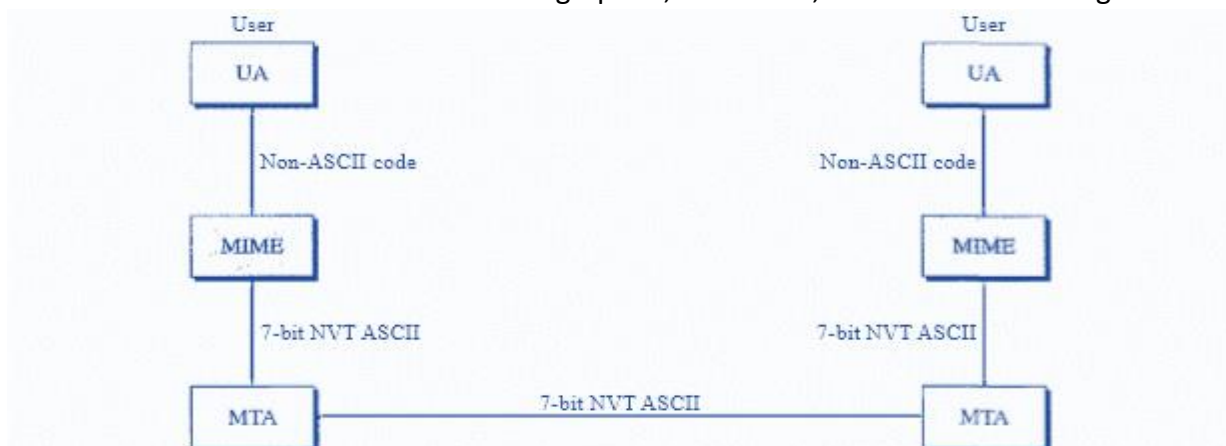

SMTP Server:

- o SMTP is an acronym for Simple Mail Transfer Protocol, this is used for routing messages.
- o SMTP is an email communication protocol used to transfer emails between two systems.
- o Whenever you send an email, the SMTP server handles directing it to its final destination.
- o Your host's SMTP server will converse with other SMTP servers' routed the messages.
- o From one server to the next until it reaches its destination server and delivers the email.
- o Important feature of SMTP is been platform-independent, which means in order to run.

MIME (Multipurpose Internet Mail Extensions):

- o Multipurpose Internet Mail Extensions make easy to send the file attachments with emails.
- o The introduction of MIME was an exciting time during the development of modern email.
- o People can exchange different kinds of data files across internet (video, audio, applications).
- o MIME allow users to send and receive graphics, audio files, and video files through email.

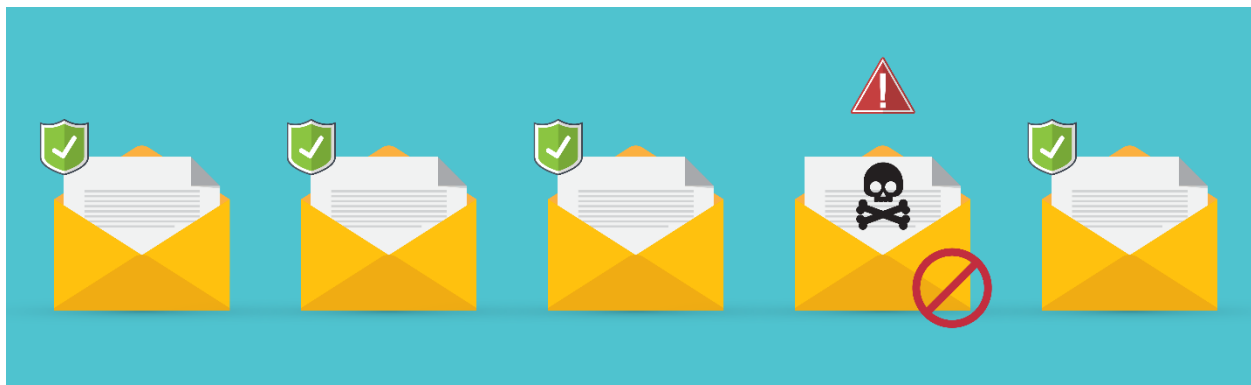

Spam:

- o Spam, also known as junk email, spam is when unsolicited messages are sent by email.
- o Email Spam, which is also known as Junk Email, is the unsolicited number of Emails.
- o Mostly spam is from commercial advertiser because it is email is a more cost-effective.
- o Free rewards and offers of discount coupons get the attention of the email receivers.
- o Spam sender does this through fake process & story asking victims for the payments.
- o Another Spam Email are phishing emails, which disguised as official organizations email.
- o The Spam an email has to be not only commercial but have fraudulent or malicious intent.
- o These Spam are often sent in the bulk (the act of spamming) by people you do not know.
- o Many spam emails contain links to familiar websites lead to sites that are hosting malware.
- o Many spam emails contain links to familiar websites lead to sites that are hosting phishing.
- o The Spam is delivered in various ways and these messages are orchestrated by a spammer.
- o Spammer is an individual or an entity (group of individuals or a company) that sends spam.
- o The Users should avoid these spam email and do not click on any link in the spam emails.

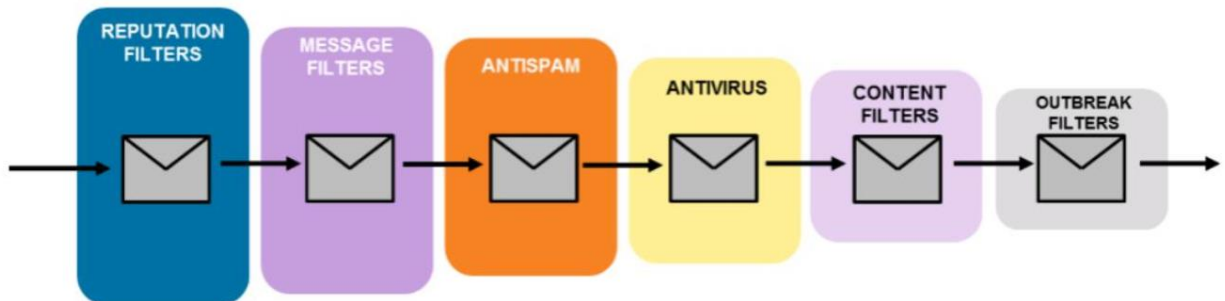

Phishing Email:

- o Another common Email attack is Electronic Mail Phishing where private data is captured.
- o The user clicks on an email designed to look the same as that of a trusted party, Like bank.
- o The website asks for login and personal information to enter or may ask to click on the link.
- o Most common phishing email involves message alerting to problem with sensitive account.
- o By mistake users click the link, enter their login and password details in the fraudulent site.

Email Spoofing:

- o Email Spoofing is when an email message is sent with a forged the sender Email address.
- o Seeing a strange email from a friend or recognized third-party can be quite disconcerting.
- o Even if it looks like it's come from a recognized place, it doesn't mean your friend, bank, etc.
- o Spoofing is commonly used in tandem with spam and phishing emails to mislead recipient.

Email Worms:

- o Email worm is a nasty piece of work, it distributes copies of itself in an email attachment.
- o Infected emails are sent email addresses that worm has harvested from files on infected PC.
- o Amount to thousands of infected computers & many more compromised emails being sent.

